

The tail-shape gap appears only where the denominators are built differently

